

WAYMAN ANDERSON

AHHHH!

The whole TEAM holds their breath. The skeleton settles for a moment. The TEAM sighs in relief. In one singular instant, the skeleton crumbles to the ground.

RABY

(To SAN MARTIN)

That dinosaur's in rough shape.

SAN MARTÍN

And those LEGOs aren't looking good either.

DR. RABY and SAN MARTIN share the TEAM secret handshake.

PEN

(Eating her sandwich)

Hi, Dr. Anderson.

WAYMAN ANDERSON

How many times have I asked you to call me Wayman? You all use each others first names, I just want to be included.

PEN

Ok, Vayman.

WAYMAN ANDERSON

It's Vayman.

BUTCH

That's what she said.

WAYMAN ANDERSON

No, she said Vayman. I'm Wayman. It's simple.

SQUIRT

What he means is Wayman.

WAYMAN ANDERSON

Yah, vis a duple-vay. Thank you, Squirt. Now let's continue.

SAN MARTÍN

But we haven't started yet.

WAYMAN ANDERSON

Ah, yes! To the beginning. Space. The Final Frontier... To boldly go

(MORE)

(CONTINUED)

WAYMAN ANDERSON (cont'd)
where... No sorry - that, students, is called copyright infringement.

SAN MARTÍN
What is copyright infringement?

BUTCH
It's when I wrote something and I own it, you say it and don't pay me, and I call my uncle (who's a lawyer) and he makes your life a living heck.

WAYMAN ANDERSON
(Blinks)
Yah. So. Space. It's full of space.
Planets, stars... who can name a star for me?

PEN
Taylor Swift.

SQUIRT
Hugh Jackman.

BUTCH
Mel Brooks.

RABY Oprah!

WAYMAN ANDERSON
Yes. These are stars. I was not clear in the way I posed the question. I realize that now.
Polaris: The North Star.

SAN MARTÍN
The... sun?

WAYMAN ANDERSON
Yes! And what does the sun do?

BUTCH
It rises. It sets. Sunrise, sunset.

WAYMAN ANDERSON
Swiftly fly the years-- No, this is not what I'm asking you! But this is close! The Earth moves around the sun in space. Does anyone know how long that takes?